

AFRICAN AMERICAN CEMETERY PRESERVATION WORKSHOP

• WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 2017 • 9 A.M. to 11 A.M. • PEBBLE HILL •

Join the Caroline Marshall Draughon Center for the Arts & Humanities and the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at Auburn University for a free workshop on African American cemetery preservation. Led by Frazine Taylor and Elvin Lang, the workshop will cover cemetery art, maintenance of historic cemeteries, and how to use cemeteries in your genealogical research.

Frazine Taylor is a genealogy consultant and former Head of Reference for the Alabama Department of Archives and History. She is the author of Researching African American Genealogy in Alabama: A Resource Guide.

Elvin Lang is the Historian for the Black Belt African American Genealogical & Historical Society, Inc. and a former manager for the Alabama Department of Environmental Management.

VISIT AUB.IE/CEMETERYWORKSHOP TO REGISTER.

The Caroline Marshall Draughon Center for the Arts & Humanities at Pebble Hill is located at 101 S. Debardeleben Street in Auburn.
