

Auburn University Paris, France Exchange Program

Exchange program at Université Paris Ouest.

The Université Paris Ouest was founded in 1970 with the merger of the Sorbonne humanities and law faculties and incorporation of the Ville d'Avray IUT (University Institute of Technology). Thus from the very beginning, the University has been multidisciplinary with a vast range of academic courses, such as Literature and Languages, Human Sciences, Legal, Economic and Management Sciences, Technology, Arts, Culture and Information Communication as well as Physical and Sports Activities. Among some of its famous alumni, there are Nicolas Sarkozy, former president of France, Dominique de Villepin, former Prime Minister of France, Luc Brisson, philosopher, Daniel Cohen, economist and journalist for Le Monde, and Sylvie Germain, writer. A city within the city: Dormitory (1200 rooms) and university restaurant and Olympic-size swimming pool. The university sports center includes a multifunctional sports hall, special rooms and outdoor courts and fields (tennis, basketball, football, athletics stadium, etc), theatre with 500 seats amphitheater-cinema with 900 seats, the largest digital cinema in the Ile-de-France region.

Program Details:

- Options for semester- or year-long exchanges
- Open to all majors in the College of Liberal Arts
- Courses taught in English or French. Some fluency in French recommended
- Option to receive 12 hours of credit for undergraduates, 9 hours for graduate students
- Must have a 2.5 GPA for undergraduates, 3.0 GPA for graduate students
- Pay Auburn University tuition while getting to attend university abroad!
- Options for many excursions to visit historical sites throughout Europe
- Full immersion into the local culture
- Students are responsible for housing fee
- Medical and travel insurance coverage for the length of the program

Contact:

Dr. Giovanna Summerfield
College of Liberal Arts
summegi@auburn.edu

To learn more, visit:

cla.auburn.edu/cla/cce/abroad-opportunities/exchange-program-at-universite-paris-ouest/and

http://studyabroad.auburn.edu/index.cfm?FuseAction=Programs.ViewProgram&Program_ID=10969

Community & Civic Engagement