

Why Should You Apply?

Lambda Pi Eta is a highly selective honor society.

Membership not only signals your exceptional academic achievement, but it also gives you opportunities to attend beneficial career-building workshops, to become involved in community service activities, and to act as an outstanding representative of both the Society and your major.

Your achievement is also recognized at graduation when you wear your LPH honor cords

Lambda Pi Eta

National Communication
Association

Auburn University
Chapter
Omicron Zeta

Who is Eligible?

Undergraduate students who are enrolled full-time;

who are majoring in one of the following areas:
Communication,
Journalism, Public Relations, or Radio/Television/Film;

who have completed a minimum of 60 credits, 12 of which are in their CMJN major;

who have a demonstrated commitment to the discipline;

who are ranked in the top 35% of their class;

who have a cumulative 3.00 GPA or higher;

and have a 3.25 GPA in their CMJN major courses.

How To Apply

Applications are available online or in CMJN main office, 232 Tichenor Hall.

Applications are accepted once each semester.

Deadlines are posted in the CMJN departmental office and on the departmental website.

History

The Auburn University Department of Communication and Journalism Honor Society, Lambda Pi Eta, was established in 1985.

The history of Lambda Pi Eta extends to over 400 active chapters at numerous colleges and universities across the world. Lambda Pi Eta is the honor society of the National Communication Association.

Lambda Pi Eta is a scholarly society and, as such, works to enhance the research, teaching, and service produced by its members on topics of both intellectual and social significance.

For more information contact:

Dr. Debra Worthington
Chapter Advisor

Department of Communication &
Journalism

219 Tichenor Hall

worthdl@auburn.edu

334.844.2727