

FLIT 3200 is the Italian mini-companion to “Italy in Black and White” (FLIT 3510). It’s a one-credit class in Italian that allows keeping up with your speaking skills. This is a conversation course in which a minimal knowledge of Italian is required (2 semesters in College or consent of the Instructor). The class meets once a week; there are NO EXAMS, NO PAPERS AND NO TEXTBOOKS. Each week there is a study guide prepared by the instructor including the topic to be discussed and a glossary for the new vocabulary introduced. Class discussions revolve around the question of why colored (foreign) immigrants strike fear in contemporary Italian society.

AUBURN UNIVERSITY

FLIT 3200 – FALL 2010

ITALY IN BLACK AND WHITE

FEAR OF THE OTHER IN CONTEMPORARY ITALIAN CINEMA