Welcome to Auburn University’s Telfair Peet Theatre

A visual visitors guide for sensory friendly pre-visit preparation
Parking Map
The front lot will be closed off and reserved for those with parking passes. However you may park in the lot at the bottom of the hill or in the parking deck.
A golf cart is available to take you up the hill and to the front of the theatre if you would like a ride.

You can also walk on the sidewalks and up the hill to get to the building.
Here is the roundabout where you can be dropped off.
This is the entrance to our theatre
Just inside the doors is the box office, you can pick up your tickets here

Every person must have a ticket to enter the theatre
There will be a Patron/ Guest Services table. They have light reduction sunglasses and noise reduction headphones for you to wear during the show if it is too bright or too loud.

In addition, they have a narrative booklet that describes different parts of the show with pictures.
If you need to use the bathroom, there are bathrooms on either side of the box office.
Around the corner, employees will be ready to scan your ticket.

You can go down the stairs or take the elevator into the black box lobby, where you can look at the dramaturgical displays, that will give you more information about the show.
When you enter the black box, you can choose any seat you like

There will be lots of people in the theatre!
When you are sitting in your seat, someone might have to walk in front of you to get to their seat.
During the performance there may be bright lights, loud noises, or actors interacting with the audience.

There will be someone with glow sticks to indicate when these things are going to happen.
If you want some quiet time you can exit the theatre and sit in the lobby. There will be fidgeting toys and coloring books you can use.
Dance studio

One of the quiet spaces will be in our dance studio. You can go here if you need a break at any time during the performance.
The show might have two parts with a short break in between (an intermission)

During the intermission you can go into the lower lobby and buy snacks. Or you can go to the bathroom.

When intermission is over, you will go back to your seat and watch the rest of the show.
The show is over!

There will be lots of people clapping.

The stairs and aisles will be crowded as people leave. You can wait a little to leave if you want to.
Thank You for visiting!

We hope you enjoy the show
